Witnesses: William King, Robert Matthews, Peter Gray

Bequests, Devices, etc.: First, I give to my wife, Elizabeth Stahl two cows of her choosing out of my flock, four sheep, one bed and bedding, and also three hundred dollars in money to be raised out of my personal estate. I also reserve her support during her natural life out of my farm which I bequeath to my son Enoch. Item: I give to my son Enoch the plantation on which I now reside, valued at six dollars per acre. I also give him one wagon free without any charge. Item: I give to my son Henry one wagon free without any charge. I also give him an equal share of my estate with my other heirs, deducting first one thousand and twenty five dollars which he has already received of me in part, of his dividend. Item: I give to my daughter Mary, intermarried with Henry Krouse, the plantation on which they reside, containing one hundred and seventy acres, valued at four dollars and fifty cents per acre, which I will to the said Mary's heirs and assigns. Item: I give to my daughter Feby, intermarried with Samuel Matthews, the plantation on which they reside, containing about one hundred and fifty acres which I value at seven dollars per acre. Item: I give to my daughter Catharine, intermarried with Samuel Roadman, the plantation on which they reside, containing one hundred and thirty eight acres and which I value at seven dollars per acre. Item: I give unto my grandchildren Michael Tedrew and Leonard Tedrew the plantation near Mansville, known by the name of McKinney's Farm. Item: I give unto my granddaughter, Elizabeth Tedrew, eighty dollars and no more. Any other real property I may possess at the time of my decease I hereby empower my executors to put to sale in twelve months after my decease. My will is that my property, both real and personal, shall be equally divided among all of my children, share and share alike, in the term of four years after my death. Those of my heirs who fall in debt are to pay over to the other heirs the sum that was found due from them within the said term.
